Surrey Board of Education elects new board chair

Trustee Reni Masi has been acclaimed the new chair of the Surrey Board of Education at the regular public board meeting last evening. Masi served as vice-chair for the last year.

Trustees elected Wayne Jefferson as the new vice-chair, also by acclamation.

The pair assumes the roles effective immediately.

Masi takes on the position held for the last four years by trustee Shawn Wilson who stepped down from the post in accordance with board policy.

The Surrey School District is the largest in B.C. with an enrolment of 64,500 students and 123 schools.
